Parallel Perception

Galleria Muratcentoventidue pursues its exhibition program presenting a solo show by Rikke Flensberg.

For the exhibition at Gallery Muratcentoventidue titled "Parallel Perception" Rikke Flensberg works allegorical with nature in a universe where natural elements are distorted and reality seem illusory. Using a single subject, one scenario of nature she examines how reality can be reconstructed. By building up the material in a new context using instruments such as reflection, displacement and repetition the scenario appears as fragments of a larger whole.

By this Flensberg questions the borders and edges of human perception. The viewer must assemble the various parts to get the whole view. The sublime and beautiful, the light and the landscape is present but with this also the unknown and frightening.

The point that there is simultaneous existences of several possible configurations of a single motif is meant to emphasize how our complex consciousness may be key to understanding the nature and the universe around us. In the individual perception and experience of reality, there will always be a choice from a wide range of options, and it is simply impossible to get the whole scene, as you will always have a limited angle of view.

Flensberg operates in the minimalistic field using both a concrete and abstract expression.

The mediums used is photography and video.
